Snow Falling on Capital As Crowded City Awaits Kennedy's Inauguration

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP and UPI)—Snow began falling in Washington this morning, and the weatherman gave the crowded city this glum news: Several inches of mixed snow and sleet may accumulate before the hour of President-Elect John F. Kennedy's inauguration tomorrow. But come snow or sleet, the capital was squared away for one of its biggest celebrations. Kennedy was deep in conference with President Eisenhower in the White House when the snow started coming down.

He paid his second visit to the outgoing chief executive, and it was longer than the first. They budded for nearly two hours on Dec. 6. Today they spent more than two hours discussing problems.

On leaving the White House, Kennedy drove to the home of a friend in the Georgetown area of Washington where several conferences were on schedule.

He planned to take in a few receptions tonight before attending the inaugural concert and the Democratic entertainment gain tonight.

Those were the major events on the inaugural eve program.

Laboring under overcast skies, amid falling snow, workers applied the last touches to an construction that has turned Capitol plaza into a vast outdoor arena for the inauguration ceremony.

Every plane, train and bus jolted in politicians, celebrities, school children, brass bands and ordinary proclamations. Democrats eager to whoop it up over regaining control of the White House.

All were here for a solemn occasion that lasts but a moment.

Around 12:30 p.m. tomorrow, Kennedy takes the simple oath, and as he does the awesome responsibility for leading this country in the challenging days ahead quietly shift to him.

Rarely has there been such an all-star cast.

Kennedy is here. Harry Truman is here. Dwight Eisenhower is here. Herbert Hoover was expected late today.

A commission would set policy for the corps. Its membership would consist of representatives from the state boards of health and education, the state forestry department, highway department and the employment security agency.

The corps would be assigned to conservation work required by various state agencies.

Burt said such a corps would make it possible to accelerate conservation work and also provide jobs for those youngsters who are unable to find other summer employment.

For a short time tomorrow four men who have taken this high oath will be together at the capitol—two Democrats, two Republicans—who by their very presence are an excellent illustration of democracy at work.

Here is the schedule of major inaugural events.

Today: 3 to 6 p.m.—Reception for state governors and special guests; 7:30 p.m.—Dinner and reception given by singer-actor Frank Sinatra; 8:15 p.m.—Inaugural concert at Constitution hall.

President-Elect and Mrs. Kennedy to attend; 8:45 p.m.—Inaugural gala to raise money for Democrats, Sinatra and other lending entertainers are featured. Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy to attend.

Tomorrow: 11:20 a.m.—Kennedy calls at White House to escort Eisenhower to inaugural ceremony; Noon—Inaugural ceremony at the capitol. Kennedy's inaugural address; 1:30 p.m.—Inaugural parade from capitol to White House; 7:15 p.m.—Fireworks display and women's air force band concert at Washington monument; 9 p.m.—Fire inaugural balls.

If you love a parade, tomorrow is your day.

A procession of 32,000 military men, civilian dignitaries and performers, ranging from Shriners on mule back to pretty girls on color.

T. F. Schools Report High Absentee List

School absences have been on the increase during the past week according to reports from Harrison, Blakel, Morningside, Washington and Lincoln schools.

Harrison school reported 83 absences Monday and 76 Tuesday of approximately 600 enrollments.

Washington school reported 74 absent Wednesday out of 500 students enrolled. This is the highest recorded to date at Washington.

Blakel school had "about 50 students absent all week," stated Francis Anderson, school principal. The school has 502 students enrolled.

Morningside school had 72 absent Wednesday. Jack Watt, school principal, said the absences have been "building up" since Christmas vacation. There are 594 students enrolled at the school.

Lincoln school was the only one reporting a downward trend. Out of a total enrollment of 680 students there were 49 absences reported Wednesday. The average is between 35 and 40 students per day, according to Mrs. Myron Doest, school secretary. Absenteeism was highest prior to the Christmas holidays, she said.

Most school spokesman agree that measles is taking the biggest toll but, add that chicken pox, flu, mumps and strep throat infections are all claiming a number of victims.

School Officials Ask Payroll Aid

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19 (UPI)—The New Orleans school board, which has kept its newly-integrated school system working since November—despite the state government's roadblocks, today admitted it can't meet tomorrow's payroll unless the legislature helps out.

Board President Louis G. Rickey said the board sent checks for the teachers at 47 of the city's 120 schools to Baton Rouge for lawmakers' endorsement.

The checks should exhaust some $749,000 in board funds confiscated by the state in November. It was not immediately known whether state officials would endorse the checks.

BY LYLE C. WILSON WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (UPI)—This is a story of Sam Jones, American.

Sam's father was a small businessman, Sam, sr. He became overextended in the years during

But the great depression came along just then, and the debt of

There was little debate on three of the four bills approved. However, senators spent considerable time on a bill which would allow persons over 65 to fish and hunt free in the state.

One of the sponsors, Sen. Art Murphy, D., Shoshone, said it would mean a loss of $50,000 to the state but he hoped the time would not come when "we place five dollars over respect of our senior citizens."

However, Sen. Don Frederickson, D., Gooding, said he didn't think anyone would object paying $5 for the right to fish and hunt in the Gem state.

Sen. Eldon Cook, R., Bear Lake, explained that he now had more time to fish and hunt and "I don't want to ride on it."

The hill's other sponsor, Sen. Jack Murphy, R., Lincoln, noted that the state was willing to spend a large amount of money on economic development and felt the bill would give a "little momentum and additional advertising." He added that in his opinion the net loss of $50,000 would be more than offset by the income derived from people who would come into the state to take advantage of the free license.

Sen. K. C. Barlow, R., Cassia, in explaining his vote on the bill, said that the proposed budget for the fish and game department in the next biennium was 14 million dollars more than in the present two year period so "we are not dealing with a poverty stricken agency."

The bill passed 28 to 13.

A 7.4 million dollar construction program, financed by increases in cigarette and beer taxes and retention of the "head tax" gained approval yesterday of the house appropriations committee.

The vote was 6 to 4 in favor of introducing the bill, which follows closely the recommendations Gov. Robert E. Smiley made to the legislature in a special message last Friday. Primary difference is in use of the much-criticized $10 "head tax" instead of a boost in property taxes, as proposed by Smiley.

The building bill creates a permanent building fund. It earmarks for such a fund the revenue from:

A cent per pack tax increase on cigarettes, estimated to yield 1.2 million dollars per biennium.

A $1.55 per barrel boost in the tax on beer, expected to bring one million dollars per biennium.

An escheats bill, expected to produce $400,000.

A shift in liquor profits of $800,000 per biennium from the general fund.

And retention of the "head tax" expected to bring in four million dollars. Revenue from this measure previously was estimated at 3.5 million dollars but it is believed it will be nearer four million dollars.

The measure authorizes issuance of tax anticipation notes against the building fund so that construction could be undertaken promptly.

A priority schedule for construction is provided, following Smiley's recommendation.

Introduced in the senate was a bill which would outlaw labor contracts requiring union membership for agricultural workers.

The bill defines agricultural labor as that involving persons engaged in the packing, processing and transporting to market of any agricultural or horticultural commodity if such service is performed as an incident to ordinary farming operations, or, in the case of fruits and vegetables, as an incident to the preparation of such fruits or vegetables for market.

A farm is defined as including stock, dairy, poultry, fruit, bearing arable and truck farms, plantations, ranches, nurseries, ranges, greenhouses and similar structures used primarily for the raising of agricultural or horticultural commodities and orchards.

The measure said that under public policy, "The right to work of an agricultural laborer as defined herein shall not be denied or abridged on account of membership or non-membership in a labor union or labor organization."

Two memorials were introduced.

One urged immediate construction of the Lower Teton project on the Teton river in Fremont county.

The other recommended that any federal money which might be available for improvement of teachers' salaries be distributed to school districts on the basis of the regular distribution formula.

Reed Starkey was elected to the board of directors to replace Lorraine Lowman who is leaving this area.

The club will attend the Church of the Nazarene as a body Jan. 29.

The church is now holding services in the former Presbyterian church at the corner of 15th street and Avenue.

Committee appointments are being made by the new president, Joe Lambert, and will be announced soon.

Total U. S. Income Declines During November, December

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (UPI)—The total income of all Americans declined in November and December for the first time since the 1959 steel strike.

The commerce department says the annual rate of personal income dropped by 700 million dollars in November and by 23 billion dollars in December. The December rate of 406.7 billion dollars compared with an October peak of 409.7 billion dollars.

Payroll cuts in manufacturing industries accounted for virtually all of the decline.

For all of 1960, personal income totaled a record of 404.2 billion dollars. The 1959 total was 383.3 billion dollars.

This was the fourth report this week to point up a significant December slump in the economy.

The government said earlier that unemployment increased by 300,000 to a 20-year December high of 4.5 million. Industrial production dropped about two percent and private housing starts fell 18 percent.

Charles Boyle, 56, Burley, was sentenced to five days in jail Tuesday by Kimberly Justice of the Peace Ray Potter. He was convicted of failing to answer a summons.

Boyle was fined $25 on the same charge, and $10 for driving a vehicle with faulty brakes by Judge Potter. He was remanded to the custody of the Twin Falls sheriff's office to serve his jail term.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — President-Elect Kennedy's friends are not too happy over the seemingly puzzling and inconsistent behavior of supposedly friendly Democratic liberals in the senate.

In view of their surprisingly increased numbers through Republican reinforcements from the western states they are not too happy at the expense of "party solidarity." They have become angry disturbers of the political peace.

In fact, it is the Democratic conservatives who have shown the most friendliness toward President-Elect Kennedy in their wholehearted approval of his cabinet and administrative appointments.

POT SHOTS

THE OTHER VIEW!

Dear Pot Shots:

In the Jan. 15 Sunday Feature Section of the Times-News, a lot was written about the TOPS club best loser. When I read the feature I got thinking about whether it would be possible to have a "put on pounds club."

I live in Buhl and I am a junior in high school. There are several other boys and girls in the school who would like to POPS.

Within the government one group or agency should be made responsible for developing a national policy to encourage our technological effort.

Specific provisions for applied research and exploratory development should be included in many government-supported projects.

There has been a lack of emphasis on these in the past, stemming directly from a "get-it-done" policy: "Deliver this equipment with these capabilities on this date."

Overall technical progress inevitably suffers and often the final product is outdated before it appears.

The federal government should encourage the updating of our capital equipment. Depreciation allowances should be given consideration as a means to this end. Depreciation allowances should be kept under constant review to ensure that useful equipment life for tax purposes is realistic.

Technological change, however, may cause displacement problems in some industries. It may also be a factor in certain "distressed" areas throughout the country. The federal government should allow accelerated plant depreciation to industries which move into these areas.

The minimum disturbance to the economic functioning of the country will come about by moving industry to the people who need jobs.

The other evening, for instance, I was driving down Main Avenue when a car a short distance ahead of me cut clear across the street to grab a vacant parking space. I saw no signal.

And as I slowed down to avoid a collision, the driver of the car behind me hit him horn!

Yessir, you can't go to sleep on Main!

Magic Valley Meeting Held On Fertilizer

The importance of soil testing in obtaining high crop yields was emphasized by G. Oren Baker, University of Idaho professor, in a group discussion conducted at the one-day fertilizer industry conference held Wednesday at the Idaho Power company auditorium.

Some 35 persons representing eight Magic Valley counties attended the morning and afternoon sessions.

The use of soil testing by county agents, progress of soil testing in Idaho and how industry looks at the soil testing service were topics discussed by the panel. Baker was panel moderator.

Panel members included Glenn Lewis, University of Idaho, Moscow; W. G. Priest, extension agricultural agent, Jerome; Charles Painter, University of Idaho extension service, Boise, and James C. Whiteley, Balfour Guthrie and company, Buhl.

Painter spoke to the group on how to use a fertilizer guide, pointing out that there is a need for a guide to provide uniformity in fertilizer recommendations. He emphasized that there are many sources from which farmers could obtain information on the use of fertilizer.

A panel discussion on "Soil Testing - Results, Problems and Interpretation," was held during the afternoon. Panel members included Glenn Lewis, University of Idaho, Moscow; W. G. Priest, extension agricultural agent, Jerome; Charles Painter, Boise, and James C. Whiteley, Balfour Guthrie and company, Buhl.

After the discussion, James G. Walker, Aberdeen, assistant agronomist at the University of Idaho, Aberdeen branch experiment station, spoke on fertility research in southern Idaho. Walker summarized all of the research that had been conducted in soil-fertility in southern Idaho.

He told results of fertilizer trials on various crops, including potatoes, corn, alfalfa, wheat and beans. He noted that the results had been incorporated into a fertilizer guide published by the University of Idaho.

Todd Tremblay, representing the National Plant Food Institute, Seattle, Wash., talked to the group about plant and tissue analysis. He pointed out the possibility of using plant analysis as a diagnostic tool to determine plant food requirements of the various crops in the area.

He cited studies conducted by the NFPI and Idaho extension service, where it had been demonstrated by plant analysis that 55 per cent of the alfalfa yields sampled in southern Idaho were low in phosphate content.

Similar samples taken on potatoes in various areas of Idaho showed that 13 per cent of the fields sampled in Boise and Jerome areas were low in phosphate and 17 percent of the fields in the Twin Falls area were low in phosphate.

Tremblay noted that plant analysis data on the potato fields indicated that a number of fields were running low in phosphate content.

He stated, "Plant analysis is an excellent tool for diagnosing the nutrient supplying power of the soil and more surveys on Idaho crops will be conducted in the future."

"People today are demanding more and more services," stated Melvin Switzer, Pullman, Wash., who concluded the conference.

He said this is true for farmers who want more services from fertilizer dealers.

"Research studies indicate that farmers want fertilizer dealers to provide services, including soil sampling, demonstrations, farmer meetings and general education of efficient fertilizer use," he stated.

He added that research studies also show that when dealers offer these services, the farmer benefits by greater profits per acre, the dealer benefits by increased sales and the community benefits by a greater total agricultural income.

"Pasture production can be doubled with the use of fertilizer and other improved practices, including improved varieties, rotation, grading and water control," Robert E. Higgins, from the University of Idaho extension service, Boise, told the group during the morning session.

He stated that forage is the base for the Idaho livestock industry and that it is the limiting factor in maintenance of beef and sheep breeding flocks. He pointed out that alfalfa, grass and hay production can be increased with one-third fertilizer and improved practices.

Higgins noted that stored hay can be increased by as much as one-fourth with improved harvest and storage practices, adding that forage yield is not the only factor to be concerned with.

"We should consider quality and animal response as well," he stated.

Virgil Kennedy, from the University of Idaho extension service, speaking on "Concepts of Economic Returns From Fertilizer Use," stated that economic principles understood and applied by the farmer will improve his decisions.

They will help him determine how to distribute his resources of time, skill, land, machinery and fertilizer to get maximum returns," he said. He added that a fertilizer isn't the only alternative a farmer has, but that when it is, combined with other good

Navaho Indian Students Are Hosted by Area High School

BURLEY, Jan. 19—Twenty-eight Navaho students from the Brigham City Intermountain Indian school have been guests in the homes of Burley high school students through today.

This is the sixth year the exchange program has been conducted between the two schools. Burley school students visited the Brigham City vocational school with its 2,300 students last week. The program has been planned to promote better understanding and relations between the two groups, says Earl Carlson, principal. It is sponsored by the Burley Chamber of Commerce and the school.

As the Navaho students got off the bus they were greeted by their hosts, Carlson and several other faculty members. Each one was taken to the home of his host where the Utah students spent the evening with the family of the Idaho student.

The Indian students accompanied their hosts to school Wednesday morning and from 9 to 11 a. m. the students visited the Simpson plant at Heyburn with Hugo DalSoglio host from the Burley Chamber of Commerce. From 11 a. m. to noon they toured the Boise Cascade Container corporation with Mr. Duncan as host for the chamber.

The Navaho students had lunch at the high school. An assembly was held in the afternoon as well as a visit to the Shelley Processing company where Cliff Strom was to be host for the Burley chamber.

Thursday morning they reported to school with their host then toured the Jerome Cooperative creamery with Clyde Ross as host for the Chamber of Commerce. After the last tour they visited classes at the school.

Most of the Indian students attending the vocational school are originally from New Mexico and Arizona.

Navaho girls' hostess are Trudy Hoffman, Gayla Gunderson, Shirley Fullmer, Marcia Hatch, Marilyn Bingham, Patti Thaxton, Glennie Brog Wrigley, Gae Sue Taylor, Jean Searle, Bonnie Robertson, Julie Ann Fowler, Martha Frederick, Jean Schodde, Carol Ann Hatch and Shirley Batterton.

Navaho boys' hosts are LaMont Anderson, Kenneth Walker, David Spencer, Lynn Larson, Bill Funke, Richard Hedberg, Brent Rasmussen, Irvin Rencher, Bob Bray, Kendall Gingham, Bert Clegg, Joe Morgan, Niel Robertson, Trent Kitley, Raleigh Curtis and Gary Lynes.

"Red Cross supplies the health department, private physicians and clinics with the gamma globulin, so the only cost to the patient is that of administering the agent.

Fees would be quite high if the supply had to be purchased from commercial suppliers," he added.

Again the American Legion has generously made available to the Red Cross the use of the Legion hall for blood drawing, from 2 to 6 p. m. Monday. With the high incident of illness in the area, we especially urge all persons who are in good physical condition to support the blood drawing Monday," Dr. Van Wieren noted.

Distinguished Service Award At Jerome Goes to Dr. Parker

JEROME, Jan. 19 — Dr. Charles Parker was awarded the distinguished service award by the Jerome Jaycees Monday evening. The outstanding young farmer award was presented to Don Thibault and K. Clark received the plaque for outstanding boss.

Dr. Parker was nominated by the Jerome Kiwanis club. He is also a member of the Elks, chairman of the American Legion Boy Scout troop committee, president of the Jerome safety council, president of the state optometric association and chairman of the state board of examination. He is a director of the Chamber of Commerce and was chairman of Farmer's night for that organization.

He has been an active Jaycee, serving on both the local and state level since coming to Jerome in 1953. He is married and has three children, Dewey Cavin, last year's winner, presented the award.

Dr. Wesley Rose presented the outstanding young farmer award to Thibault, who farms 380 acres on a six-year rotation plan, using modern methods and following the advice of the county agent, Dr. Rose said.

Thibault owns 25 head of Holstein cows and 30 Holstein heifers. He belongs to the Dairy Herd. In Both winners are affiliated with the First Christian church.

Marvin Cope, employee of radio station KART, presented the outstanding boss award to K. Clark, owner of the station. LeRoy Craig, fourth district vice president, spoke briefly on the award, thanking the bosses for their contribution to Jaycees. Each member introduced his boss.

Joe Anderson, Idaho Falls past Jaycee state president, was the main speaker. Anderson, an attorney, noted one line of the Jaycee creed, "We believe that government should be of laws, rather than men." Anderson read the fifth amendment of the constitution, and said that it is not popular at this time to defend this amendment because of the unpopularity of those invoking it in congressional investigations.

Anderson said that individual freedoms are always subject to amendment.

"We should actively strive to preserve the rights the constitution guarantees. It is man's good fortune to be born free," Anderson said, "his choice to live free, but his obligation to die free."

Anderson cited the small percentage of the population who take part in politics as an example of the lethargy of the majority of the people. The national average was unable to attend.

Anderson was working for the party of one's choice on a local level, is two per cent.

Richard Everson presented two awards for press coverage to Mrs. J. R. Churchian, Times-News correspondent, and to the North Side News. Don Cisp presented award to radio station KART.

Tom Prescott, toastmaster, introduced Laddie Dale, International director from Idaho Falls; John Wiswall, Lions president; Frank Brogden and Dwight McGill, incoming and outgoing president of the Kiwanis; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Craig, fourth district vice presidents for the Jaycees and Jaycettes; Mac Ambrose, past state president, and Ivan Stone and Frank Hurnbach, both past state secretaries.

Named Delegate

He was elected during the 52nd annual convocation of the Episcopal church in Idaho last weekend in Idaho Falls. Also attending the conclave were the Rev. John F. Tulk and Mrs. Miller. The Rev. Mr. Tulk was an alternate delegate for Ellwood Wherry, who was unable to attend.

Prospect reports show that out of 72 businesses contacted for short range business there will be six that will be in operation in one to two years. Out of 100 contacts for long range business, "two to five years, there are nine good prospects," he stated.

Burley Hears Idaho-Oregon Council Head

BURLEY, Jan. 19 — "Our need here in this council area is for an increase in industry that will create jobs for our children who are growing up," stated Howard Basler, executive secretary of the Idaho - Eastern Oregon Industrial Development council, when he addressed approximately 30 business men at a Wednesday luncheon meeting at Nelson's cafe.

The council helps the community to be ready for industry and gives advice for contacting industry. It now serves 31 communities in eastern Oregon and southwest Idaho, he asserted.

In 1960 it made 98 personal calls on industries and 39 by long distance telephone calls which resulted in two to five years for a large concern to decide to locate in a certain area, he added.

of these, Bassler said.

He reviewed the financial report of the organization since its inception four years ago. Seven major companies supported it for three years and a year ago the money ran out and these companies agreed to renew their membership for six months. In November the board of governors met in Jerome and set up a budget for $23,000 and called it "operation survival," he said.

Three hundred dollars was pledged by the close of the meeting and others taking them are asked to mail them to the chamber office within the next ten days.

Those who become members are eligible to be elected to serve on the board of governors or board of directors, Basler said.

local industrial committee. He reminded the members of how it was important to keep some things confidential, for often times when "stories" get spread around they have a way of getting changed.

Charles Hendrick, chamber president, stated that his company supported the organization a 100 per cent. "We need additional programs in this area on what the council does," he stated.

THE CRISIS

THAT WASN'T

Today, there are many quick victories over disease. Each might be described as a crisis that didn't quite happen — thanks to today's superior medicinal agents.

Modern medicines prescribed by your physician score amazing triumphs over diseases which, only a decade ago, were almost certain to become dangerously serious.

Present-day pharmaceuticals, such as the antibiotics, require complex equipment, intricate controls and highly skilled technicians for production.

Although somewhat higher in cost, they actually are an investment in economy. They effect an earlier cure and cut down expensive sick-bed time.

We are staffed and equipped to fill your doctor's prescriptions promptly at prices that are fair.

Other guests were Mrs. Margaret Dakin, Mrs. Terry Sullivan, Debby Sullivan, Mrs. Laura Kinder, Mrs. LeRoy Mothershead, Norma McVey and Mrs. Myrtle Rambo, Buffalo.

A business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Stone after the dinner. The invocation was given by Mrs. Rambo and the flag was presented by Mrs. Susie Pratt.

Mrs. Peter Gigerzen was given a life membership to the local chapter.

Mrs. Ewing thanked the group for the dinner invitation and announced the state convention is tentatively set for June at Kellogg. Because of the miners strike there is possible it will be held some other place. She also stated the USO in Mountain Home was closed Christmas eve and will not be re-opened unless enough interest is shown in the project.

Mrs. Hohnhorst told of her trip to San Francisco to place an AWM wreath at the West Coast Memorial wall at the Presidio. Mrs. Sinclair told of bills that are up before the legislature for veterans benefits.

Charter members planned a card party for next month and a white elephant auction for March.

A gift from the chapter was presented to Mrs. Ewing by Mrs. Stone.

Mrs. Frank Horsley distributed yearbooks. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Jessie Sulphur and the flag was retired by Mrs. Delmar Shumway.

Local officers were hostesses for the dinner. Mrs. W. D. Stearns roasted the two turkeys and Mrs. William Armada and Mrs. Grace Laubenthal baked the rolls. Mrs. Shumway, Mrs. Nellie McVey and Mrs. Stone were in charge of the kitchen.

Totem Pole Highlights Camp Fire Girls Celebration

Mrs. James Vandembark, right, executive secretary of the Twin Falls Council of Camp Fire Girls, and Mrs. H. D. Hankins, left, study the totem pole which will be constructed at the golden jubilee celebration Tuesday evening to symbolize the various aspects of Camp Fire activity. Mrs. Hankins, chairman of the committee which is designing and making the totem pole, has been assisted by Mrs. Charles Kennedy and Mrs. Orville Johnson. The totem pole is made of bakery cake boxes, covered and decorated with Indian symbols used by the Camp Fire Girls. Its construction is a feature of the golden jubilee celebration, with similar poles being designed across the nation as Camp Fire Girls celebrates its 50th anniversary. (Staff photo-engraving)

Golden Jubilee Program Set to Honor Community

In celebration of the golden jubilee of the founding of Camp Fire Girls and in tribute to all adults who have worked in the organization locally since its inception here more than 25 years ago, the local Council of Camp Fire Girls will hold an "honor the community" program Tuesday evening.

Similar observances are being held throughout the nation next week as the Camp Fire Girls recalls its founding 50 years ago and looks forward to the future.

The Twin Falls council will "thank the community at a program and social hour to be held at the Twin Falls high school cafeteria. Mrs. Cora Alsworth, general chairman of the celebration, has said that "hundreds of men and women in this area have given of their time, money and effort over the years and we hope that they all will come so that their contributions to Camp Fire Girls may be recognized and appreciated."

Highlighting the evening's program will be a short address by Mrs. J. W. Ehling of Richland, Wash., who has served Camp Fire Girls in her area in many capacities and is a member of the speakers' bureau of region six which includes the northwestern states.

Another featured part of the program will be the setting up of a large totem pole, its various parts depicting the different aspects of adult and youth work in Camp Fire Girls.

Exhibits of Camp Fire costumes then and now, or handcraft examples and books of early scrapbooks and notebooks will be on display for the evening, and those coming to the Golden Jubilee celebration are asked to view them between 7:30 and 8 p.m.

The program will be introduced at 8 o'clock and will continue until 9, after which an informal coffee hour will be held.

Mrs. John Breckenridge, who has been active in Camp Fire programs here for many years, will be mistress of ceremonies and narrator for the part of the program during which the totem pole will be set up. The three basic blocks of the pole will represent leaders and guardians, office workers and committee members; another group of blocks for the pole will symbolize those who have worked at national and regional levels, and another for camp workers, Bluebirds, Camp Fire Girls and Horizon club members will be noted by additional parts of the pole and its arms will signify the golden jubilee celebration.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Skinner. In Twin Falls, Mrs. James Vandembark is executive secretary of the Twin Falls council and Mrs. Kenneth Gibson is president for 1961.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

We often overlook the extent of so his mother gives him a small knowledge and its enriching influence on children that they gain by just ordinary sharing in the life about them. When a mother takes a small child along when she does the shopping he learns a great deal more than his mother ever dreamt he could.

He learns about people. One clerk is gracious, smiles at him, even speaks to him, while another is all-business—waits-on-his-customer, looks at the next while his mother is still trying to pick up the package and get it into his shopping bag. The youngster does not consciously register in his mind that one person is "nice" and another is not, that he likes one and does not like the other. But he has.

As a child watches his mother study the vegetables on the stand, listens while she asks the prices, makes her decision, he learns that there is a difference between buying one or another, that price counts sometimes and sometimes it does not and that too, registers in his mind. He is learning about people and ways of doing things, although he cannot put any of his knowledge into words, perhaps not in clear thoughts. But he has it.

Of course, it is a bit troublous at times, but it is worth it. (Released by The Bell Syndicate)

Julia Ann Heil,
James F. Clark

Trade Promises

CASTLEFORD, Jan. 19—Julia Ann Heil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Heil, and James F. Clark, son of Truman Clark, Castleford, and Mrs. Grace Rast, Wendell, exchanged wedding vows at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Seventh-day Adventist church in Twin Falls.

The Rev. Robert Burchell, minister at the Twin Falls First Baptist church, performed the double wedding ceremony before a background of lighted candelabra and art baskets of pink chrysanthemums and pink roses with large white satin bows. White satin bows marked the bridal aisle.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, chose a floor-length gown of imported French lace with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and Sabrina neckline reembroidered in sequins and seed pearls. The skirt was fashioned with lace panels in the front and alternate ruffles of lace and nylon in the back.

Her fingertip veil of French lace was held in place by a queen's crown of iridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white carnations with scallopedreamers. She wore a tassel pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Sandra Jenicke, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a maroon velvet sheath dress with a silk organza overskirt with a large bow at the waist. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Bridesmaids, Carol Swanson, Castleford, cousin of the bride; Susan Green, Bliss, and Patsy Peters, Boise, wore fuchsia velvet sheath gowns fashioned identically to the maid of honor's. They carried bouquets of white carnations and red rosebuds.

The flower girls, Susie Schmeichel, cousin of the bride, and Connie Bepple, wore fuchsia velvet sheath gowns with puffed sleeves, and Douglas Schmeichel, cousin of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Lighting the tapers were Jo Ann Schmeichel, in a white broaded sheath dress with puffed sleeves, and Dorothy Lassen, cousin of the bride.

Kenneth Tverdy, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Larry Hall, brother of the bride, Leon Smith and Ted Haslip.

Mrs. Arthur Schmeichel, Paul, sang "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Mrs. Dale Ringen who also played the wedding marches.

The bride's mother chose a turquoise lace and taffeta sheath dress and the mother of the bridegroom was attired in a blue and silver brocade nylon dress. Pink roses formed their corsages.

After the ceremony, reception for 450 guests was held in the Twin Falls Elks hall. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered cake on a mirror and decorated with pink rosebuds and blue butterflies. Stephanous encircled the cake base and pink tapers in silver candelabra completed the arrangement.

The cake was served by Mrs. Dean Swanson, Castleford, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Eldon Jenicke, Spokane, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Merle Green, Bliss, poured coffee.

Marian Clark, Moscow, sister of the bridegroom, registered the cards. Mrs. Kenneth Tverdy, director of the bridegroom; Barbara Smith and Donna Luff, both Boise, and Shirley Waldon displayed the gifts. The Ladies of the Elks supervised the reception with Mrs. Rosemary Poulier in charge.

For a trip to Las Vegas the bride chose a beige brocade sheath dress with matching jacket, pink accessories and a pink lace corsage. The couple will live at Castleford.

The bride was graduated from Castleford high school and attended—like a business—college, Boise. The bridegroom was graduated from Castleford high school and served six months in the national guard at Ft. Ord, Calif.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Jenicke and daughter and Mrs. Mick Morgan and son, all Spokane; Patsy Peters, Donna Luff and Barbara Smith, all Boise; Marian Clark, Moscow, and the bridegroom's father.

The bride was honored at a pre-wedding shower at the Methodist church with Mrs. Kenneth Tverdy, Mrs. Delbert Alexander, Mrs. Sam Poulen, Mrs. LaVar Milton and Mrs. Joe Wisecaver as hostesses.

Van Brocklin Named Head Coach for Minnesota Entry In National Football Loop

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 19 (UPI) — Norm Van Brocklin, the colorful Dutchman who carried the Philadelphia Eagles to the National Football League championship, Wednesday was named head coach of the new Minnesota Vikings. Van Brocklin's appointment under three-year contract ended a four-month quest by the Vikings for an established pro football figure to direct them in their inaugural year in the NFL. He steps into the coaching ranks three days after his valedictory as a player. Appearing in the East-West (NFL) all-star game Sunday the 34-year-old quarterback hurled three touchdown passes. Salary terms were not revealed. Van Brocklin becomes one of the youngest head coaches in the NFL. Behind him is a 12-year career of professional stardom that was climax in 1960 with the Eagles' championship.

"Among Norm's greatest qualities as a player," Vikings general manager Bert Rose said, "is his demonstrated ability of leadership. As a new team in a tough league the Vikings will require the maximum degree of leadership" and direction of a squad that will be youthful in its makeup."

Van Brocklin called his new undertaking "a tremendous challenge but also a tremendous opportunity."

One of his first chores, he said, would be to take a hard look at the NFL rosters to help in the selection of 36 players who will be made available to the Vikings as their bedrock talent for the 1961 season.

Van Brocklin's appointment came less than two weeks after he severed connections with the Eagles, irritated at not being offered the head coaching job to succeed the retiring Buck Shaw. The Dutchman contends he was promised the Eagles' No. 1 job three years ago when he joined the club. He refused an offer earlier this month to be playing assistant coach with the Eagles.

The All-American candidate from Eudora, Ark., slipped to a mere 29.7 per game average last week, still a fat 10 points better than any rival in his home territory.

Second mark was Dave Mills of Seattle university at 19.6—and the two leaders clash Friday in Seattle.

After 15 games, Burgess had stacked up 446 points. Mills had tallied 235 in a dozen outings. Not far back, with an average of 19.3 for 13 games, was Larry Applegate of Eastern Oregon college.

Another Seattle U. ace, Ed Miles, checked in with an 18.8 average.

The Brunels took eight bouts, including two pins, while Buhl scored three decisions and one pin.

Tightest match of the night saw Twin Falls' Larry Maupin come up with a reversal in the final round to decision Miller 2-1. Hauert, Buhl, defeated Keith Robinsen 3-0 in another tight one.

Results of the matches, Buhl writers listed first, include sub-65 pounds, Schmidt decisioned Jerry Michener 3-2; Ken Runyon decisioned Flinn 5-0; 103 pounds, Preman decisioned by Doug Harper 6-3; 112 pounds, B. Francis decisioned by Nell Satterwhite 5-0; 120 pounds, Acel Lallis pinned by Bill Guffey; 127 pounds, Haumont decisioned Robinson 3-0; 133 pounds, J. Francis decisioned by David King 5-0.

138 pounds, Atkins pinned by Roger Michener; 144 pounds, Miller decisioned by Larry Maupin 2-0; 144 pounds, Peterson decisioned by Dave Royer 4-1; 165 pounds, Harrell decisioned by Willis 11-4; and heavyweight, Rutherford pinned Duane Rasmussen.

Brown Feels Pirates Will Be Improved

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19 (UPI) — General manager Joe L. Brown predicted Wednesday his 1960 world champion Pittsburgh Pirates should be even better in 1961.

"But we're not going to surprise any clubs," said Brown with tongue in cheek. "We'll have to give more than 100 per cent to repeat."

Brown was host at a mid-winter luncheon for sports writers and broadcasters. The guests included pitcher Roy Face, catcher Hal Smith and second baseman Bill Mazeroski.

The trio of world series heroes (Face saved three games and Smith and Mazeroski homered in the deciding game) looked trim and ready to play tomorrow.

Looking back over the 1960 season, Brown said the rest of the National league clubs had underestimated the Pirates and felt they would fold in the stretch drive.

The reason he won last year, and there were a lot of reasons, it was only the second defeat in 18 games for the Cardinals. Face now has a 10-3 record.

Louisville, capitalizing on fine marksmanship by John Turner, shot into a 10-4 lead early in the game. In one 54-minute stretch, however, Xavier outscored the Cardinals 20-3. In that span, a field goal by Leo McDermott tied the count at 16-16 and Ron Nicola's two free throws put Xavier ahead.

The Musketeers twice had 11 point leads in the first half but they were ahead by only 45-36 at the half.

Turner led the Louisville scoring with 30 points while Bill Kirwin was tops for Xavier with 24.

Club Won't Hold Hydroplane Race

CHELAN, Jan. 19 (UPI) — Lake Chelan Boat Races Inc. voted Wednesday to cancel the Lake Chelan Apple cup race for unlimited hydro-planes this year.

The organization gave several reasons. They are: flagging interest of spectators, lessening interest of persons who have the money to operate the equipment, an increase in boats owned by the general public, an increasing demand for prize money and complication of judging by the American Power Boat association.

"It'll get a good education, no matter which school he chooses," added Kent's dad.

Top Race Horse Is Destroyed

MIAMI, Jan. 19 (UPI) — Roving Minstrel, a leading candidate for Hialeah's $100,000 Flamingo stakes, was destroyed by a veterinarian Wednesday to end the pain of a brain concussion.

The bay colt suffered the concussion Tuesday, when he fell in the walking ring by his barn. His hind legs buckled when he reared and he toppled backward, his head striking the ground.

Putter of Year

CHICAGO, Jan. 19 (UPI) — Deane Randolph, B. man., Washington, D.C., last year's U.S. amateur golf champion, Wednesday was named 1960's "putter-of-the-year" by the Golf Writers' Association of America.

Beman, 22, received 11 of the 17 votes cast by officers and directors of the Writers' group. Arnold Palmer, U.S. Open and Masters champion, collected four votes, and pros Bill Casper and Bob Rosburg, each got one vote.

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

By WALT DISNEY

Arab Refugee Problems Are Dinner Topic

BURLEY, Jan. 10.—"There is no peace in the old Bible lands" stated Catherine Butler, distinguished Midwestern authority on history and background of the Middle East, when she addressed a capacity crowd at the Burley-Rupert Knife and Fork club in the Elks dining room Monday evening.

There are 500,000 Arab refugees in Jordan, and they have a hatred and bitterness never seen in human hearts before. They exist on 50 cents a week and the refugee quarters are bad. Jerusalem is more divided than Berlin, she said.

She referred to those Arabs who sat along the roadside using their sad plight as a propaganda weapon. She told of a plan for diverting the waters to the state of Israel as well as Jordan and how it had been flatly turned down by Jordan.

"They are willing to cut off their nose to spite their face," she asserted.

A billion cubic meters of water are lost into the Dead sea. The people of Israel are planning to use this water in an hydroelectric plant. Jordan contends that when work begins on this plant, it will be the beginning of a war. There have been more than 10,000 incidents in this troubled area since the termination of the war, and the Jordan is the holy river of wrath, she stated.

"The present is a result of the past," Mrs. Butler contended. She traced the early Bible times from 4000 BC, telling the story of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Ishmael and many others. She stated that Ishmael is the ancestor of all the Arabs and Jacob is the ancestor of all the Israelites.

"We need to pray for these people" for more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of, she quoted. The Islam religion has a cold god. They believe we are predestined. It is impossible for an Islam to believe in forgiveness," she asserted.

The speaker described great oil wealth of this land saying that four and a tenth million gallons of oil were produced each day and this is one-eighth of the world's oil and one-fourth of the oil of the Middle East.

During the question period she was asked about Nasser and his connections with Russia, and the amount of money the U.S. had spent on the development of oil in the Middle East. She stated Nasser wants to make Africa an Islam nation for it is a simple faith, polygamy is accepted and no color favor is shown.

Mark Crotch, president, announced the next meeting had been changed to Feb. 10 when George Alexander Bowe will speak on "Saint or Sinners?"

Girls of the B-Teens club of the Burley high school were hostesses for the evening. They were Marcia Hatch, Kenna Anderson, Carol Ann Hurby, Nancy Weldon, Sandy Beck, Diane Allen, Renee Jones. Mrs. E. R. Blauer is their sponsor.

Health Topic Featured for Lincoln Meet

SHOSHONE, Jan. 10.—Mental health was the topic of a panel discussion at the PTA meeting held Monday night at the Lincoln school building.

Emphasis was placed on meeting a growing child's needs, recognizing mental hazards early and need for parental and teacher training in handling the problems.

The Rev. Lauren H. McReynolds, Gooding, was moderator for the panel. Members were the Rev. John F. Tulk, Shoshone, and Mrs. Gertrude Henderson and Mrs. Dolmar Park, Gooding. Mrs. F. R. Mabbott, Shoshone, Instructor at the exceptional child class at Gooding, was in charge of the program. The group was introduced by program chairman, Mrs. J. Howard Manning.

The Rev. Mr. McReynolds announced a series of mental health workshops, the first of which will be Jan. 31 at the Gooding state school.

Mrs. Ray Tanaka, president, conducted the meeting, during which the year's project was designated. Entire project funds will go this year to purchase of books for the grade school.

There are 110 PTA members this year, according to Mrs. Joe Berrichios, membership chairman. Nominated to the life membership committee are Mrs. Manning, Mrs. L. M. Hatmaker and Mrs. H. A. Thorne.

Elected to the nominating committee are Mrs. Dale Smith, Mrs. Bill J. Anderson and Mrs. Burton R. Thorne. They will report at the March meeting, as Founder's day will be observed in February.

Mrs. L. M. Hatmaker was named chairman of the book purchase committee for the grade school project.

Mrs. Bessie Ray Webb and Mrs. Roy Gibson were named to assist Mrs. Clifford Stutzman on financing the year's project.

Attendance prizes were won by rooms of Mrs. Viola McKendree and Mrs. Frank Franklin, at the grade school; the senior and junior classes at the high school.

Refreshments were served at the cafeteria by Mrs. Ed Mathison, Mrs. Myron Johnson, Mrs. Joe Myers, Mrs. J. Howard Manning and Mrs. Fred Moore.

CHOIR-PRACTICE
SHOSHONE, Jan. 10.—The carol choir of the Methodist church practiced after school Thursday. Mrs. C. V. Pethick is accompanist with Mrs. Woodrow Harris as director. Included are the junior class members of the Sunday school.

Americans smoked 470,000 million cigarettes and 8,000,000 million cigars in 1958.
